

Soviet Announces Armed Forces Cut

Seen As Propaganda Move

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced Monday night it would cut its armed forces within a year by 1,200,000 men and use the manpower in industry and agriculture.

A government statement said "other governments such as those of the United States, Britain and France wishing to contribute to the strengthening of peace, cannot but follow this example." It made no reference to armed forces slashed by Western powers since World War II.

The U.S.S.R. also reported it would disband three air divisions, put 375 ships of the Soviet navy into mothballs and disband a number of military training schools. It also said it would reduce its military budget, but gave no figure.

The statement, read to correspondents at a Foreign Ministry news conference, said:

"By undertaking these new reductions the Soviet government is striving to contribute to the practical carrying out of the disarmament program now under consideration in the United Nations."

The armed forces cut, to be in effect by May 1, 1957, involved 63 army divisions and 3 air divisions, including more than 30,000 men now stationed in Communist East Germany, and did not include the 640,000 the U.S.S.R. reported demobilized last year, the statement said.

Leonid F. Ilyichev, the Foreign Ministry press chief, said he did not know how many men would be left in the Soviet armed forces after the cut is completed, nor would he say how much of a percentage cut would be made in the military budget. There was no information, either, on what type of ships would be put in mothballs or on how much sea power would remain.

The statement said in part: "The Soviet government would be ready to consider the question of a further reduction in case the United States, Britain and France carry out a proportionate reduction in their armed forces and armament."

The Soviet statement on armed forces reduction brings Moscow double benefits.

The men demobilized will be channeled into industry and agriculture, where the need for them is acute. The U.S.S.R. got itself into a tremendous manpower squeeze with Stalin's obsession for massive land forces, and agriculture suffered severely. So did Soviet light industry and consumer services, which simply did not have the manpower to go around.

The second benefit is a propaganda one. The Soviet Union openly challenges the United States and the other Western powers to make similar armed forces reductions to inspire further progress on the disarmament problem. If the Western powers comply, the Soviet Union would attain the first point in its own disarmament proposals—the cuts in the armed forces of the major powers by specified amounts.

The Soviet Union remains the most powerful land force power on the Continent, despite the cuts. It was reported to have about 4 1/2 million men under arms. Not only in view of the U.S.S.R.'s economic troubles, but in view of the advances in thermonuclear warfare potential, the Soviet forces could have been considered lopsidedly large.

But the cut is bound to bring pressure on the Western powers. It could spark more opposition in West Germany to the buildup of a 500,000-man West German army, plus opposition in other countries to burdensome military budgets.

An overriding reason for the cut, however, could be the manpower squeeze. The Kremlin has announced its intention of catching up with and outstripping American industrial might as soon as possible. The program is calculated for about 10 to 15 years, but Russia badly needs manpower.

Not only did Stalin waste manpower, but Soviet war losses were huge—possibly costing more than 20 million persons. Most of these were young people.

ATOMIC SUB OPENS CEREMONIES—Crewmen of the Navy tug "Cochise" wave a greeting to the atomic submarine "Nautilus" as it arrives in New York harbor, on a trip from New London, Conn., with newsmen and cameramen aboard. The Nautilus appearance opened observance of Armed Forces Week in New York City.

Pope Approves Use Of Corneas To Give Sight

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII Monday approved transplant of corneas, from dead to living eyes, but warned this should be done with prudence and care. He did not speak on the transfer of these lenses from living persons, but indicated he might do so later.

The 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic church, addressing 150 oculists, touched on the transplant of other tissues, including those of an animal to a human being, and warned:

"Transplant of sexual glands from animals to man must be rejected as being immoral."

"On the contrary," he said, "the transplant of a nonhuman cornea to a human being raises no moral problem if it is biologically possible and indicated."

The Pope's words on this means of combating blindness had been anxiously awaited by Catholic doctors. Interest swelled when an Italian priest, Don Carlo Gnocchi, bequeathed his eyes to two blind Italian children—a boy and a girl—just before he died Feb. 28. The girl recovered her sight after one of the priest's corneas had been grafted on her. The boy remains blind.

The Pontiff warned against what he termed the moral error of considering a human body on the same level as that of an animal or as merely "a thing."

"The body was the habitation of a spiritual and immortal soul," he said, "and a constituent and essential part of a human person of whose dignity it partakes. Something of this dignity still attaches to it."

Cool Weather Follows Weekend Of Heat, Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cool air rolled across the central section of the nation Monday in the wake of weekend heat and storms.

Colorado and Wyoming felt the chill of wintry weather. Temperatures ranged down to 18 above zero early in the day in Fraser, Colo., and to 19 above at Big Piney, Wyo.

Rain and snow accompanied the cold in most of Wyoming and in northern Colorado. Fourteen inches of new snow fell in the south-central section of Colorado.

A band of rain extended from the midcontinent northeastward to New England. Thunderstorms were locally heavy. But there were no signs of a renewal of the weekend windstorms in the Great Lakes area that left seven dead in Ohio and six in Michigan.

Eden Won't Explain Mystery Of Frogman

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden angrily refused Monday night to explain the mystery of Britain's missing frogman. He hinted that telling the secret might chill relations with Russia.

"In this business," Eden told Parliament, his face grave and his voice deeply serious, "I do not rest only on the national interest. There is also a very important international interest."

The House of Commons was packed and hushed. Sir Winston Churchill, hunched in a front row seat, stared at his successor.

"I confess," said Eden, "that what I care is that the outcome of our discussions with the Soviet leaders should, in truth, prove to be, as I have said—the beginning of the beginning."

In complete quiet, Eden went on: "I intend to safeguard that possibility at all costs. I believe that that is the policy of the Soviet leaders and it is for that reason that I deplore this debate and will say no more."

His eyes flashed and he looked angrily at the Laborites who had unsuccessfully tried to bait him into explaining why naval Commander Lionel Buster Crabbe, the frogman, was spotted near a Russian cruiser.

The frogman is officially listed as "missing—presumed dead" in the cold waters of Portsmouth Harbor while diving near the cruiser that last month brought Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on a visit to Britain.

Eden earlier told the Soviets that he regrets the incident, but beyond saying that no minister of the government was responsible for it, he has kept silent.

The Conservatives' leader told Common Monday "I have not one more word to say than I announced on Wednesday."

At that time, the Prime Minister said Crabbe was operating "without authorization" in diving into Portsmouth Harbor. The British Admiralty has said he was engaged in diving tests.

House Approves Ag Bill For $1,983,512,568

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Monday passed a bill appropriating $1,983,512,568 for the Agricultural Department for the fiscal year starting July 1, and set three records in doing so.

It was the biggest appropriation ever voted for the department; it was passed in the record time of less than two hours, and it was the first time in modern history that no member even tried to amend a farm money bill.

Passed by voice vote, the measure now goes to the Senate. The size of the money bill was due to inclusion of $29,287,178 for restoration of capital impairment of the Commodity Credit Corp., which has been incurring losses on price support and surplus disposal programs. In past years, these losses were handled by the bookkeeping process of cancelling CCC notes held by the Treasury.

In addition to the money for restoring the CCC's financial position, the bill allots $783,061,708 for regular activities of the Agriculture Department and $271,163,682 for special activities not directly related to regular programs.

It also authorizes the department to make loans up to $339,300,000 to provide telephone and electric service and other credit facilities to farmers, on a reimbursable basis. In addition to the $339,300,000 the bill sets up a contingent loan authorization of approximately $168,000,000.

The bill has no connection with separate legislation establishing a soil bank.

Wilson: U.S. Holds Air Power Lead

Thinks It Can Be Held

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson, in a new pronouncement on air power, said Monday the United States has a superiority over Russia and he thinks it can be held.

The same opinion came from Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "I believe we can stay ahead of them."

Their statements, more confident in tone than some recent testimony by U. S. air generals, may be some reflection of what President Eisenhower had in mind when he informed his news conference May 4 that the country would feel a lot better about its air power position when the full story was presented.

Both Wilson and Radford testified before Washington had heard the news of Russia's intention to slash her armed forces by 1,200,000 men. The Kremlin announcement came several hours later. It said three Red air divisions would be among those disbanded.

Concern has been mounting in Congress that the Soviet Union was outstripping the United States in the struggle for sky mastery. Several Pentagon chiefs have said recently that Russia was "closing the gap" in some phases of air power.

Wilson was asked for a fresh assessment when he appeared before the senators to support the administration's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The defense chief said the question "is always complicated" by measuring air power in numbers of planes. The comparison should be made in terms of quality and combat readiness, he said.

Then he reported that the United States is ahead now, and the main question seems to be whether that will be true in 1960 at the current rate of buildup here and in the Soviet Union.

"We have superiority now," Wilson declared. "Inside the family circle, we think we can maintain that, but not a great big superiority."

Wilson said Russia is expanding her industrial capacity and this country cannot stop that. When Radford was invited to express his views, he said:

"As of today, I do not think the Communist nations have superior air power." He said he had "no reason to believe" that this country will lose its lead and will go into details at a secret session of the committee later.

On the foreign aid program, Wilson argued that unless the United States builds up the defensive strength of its allies it will have to put more money into its own armed forces. About three billion dollars of the new foreign aid program is ticketed for military assistance abroad.

High Court Refuses To Review Outlawing State Sedition Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court, in the face of widespread protest, refused Monday to reconsider its April 2 decision knocking out enforcement of state sedition laws.

Thirty-five states, Alaska and Allegheny County, Pa., had asked the court to reconsider and reverse itself.

In refusing to do this, the court put it up to Congress whether states, as well as the federal government, are to have the power to prosecute for sedition. Bills to nullify the effect of the April 2 decision and give the states this power are pending in both houses of Congress.

Dividing 6-3 the court held last month that state sedition laws had been superseded by the 1940 Smith Act and subsequent federal laws.

This brought cries of federal "encroachment" from some state attorneys general along with demands for legislation "to preserve states' rights."

Various petitions for reconsideration of the Supreme Court decision contained Congress never intended to give the federal government sole jurisdiction to prosecute for sedition.

The April 2 decision threw out the conviction of Communist leader Steven Nelson under Pennsylvania's sedition law. Nelson also was convicted under the Smith Act. His appeal in that case is pending before the Supreme Court.

Forty-two states have some form of laws against sedition. So have Alaska, Hawaii and Guam.

In another action Monday, the court speeded up a little bit the long drawn out proceeding to require the Communist party to register as a tool of Moscow.

It granted a government petition to issue immediately its official notification—known as a mandate—of its April 30 decision which put off indefinitely a ruling on legality of the 1950 Communist registration law.

The mandate will go to the U. S. Court of Appeals as soon as it can be prepared. That court, in turn, will send it along to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

When it gets the official word, the board will decide what steps (Continued on Page Nine)

Case Of Mutilated License Plate Tossed Out Of Court

CHICAGO (AP)—The widely watched case of the mutilated license plate was tossed out of court Monday.

But the judge didn't rule whether a motorist legally can trim the edges off an automobile license plate to fit a smaller license plate frame.

The defendant in the test case was James T. Igoe, a former Illinois congressman.

Blast At Atomic Plant Kills One, Injures Two

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—A faring explosion ripped through some non-nuclear materials Monday in an atomic plant restricted area, killing one man and injuring two others.

William R. Stooksbury, 27, of Andersonville, Tenn., died in a hospital Monday night of severe burns.

The hospital reported the other two in critical condition. They are: A. L. Lyons, 27, Oak Ridge, who suffered extensive burns, and arm and leg injuries; and G. R. Meyers, 26, Oak Ridge, arm blown off and severe burns.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the blast, which was heard and felt five miles away, occurred in some zirconium oxide and zirconium scrap in a salvage yard.

It was about a quarter of a mile away from an atomic plant, which apparently was not damaged. The men were working about 30 feet from the explosion site.

Zirconium was described as a metal used in nuclear reactors. "This material is highly inflammable and for some unknown reason it just went boom," an AEC spokesman said.

Lyons is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lyons of Quincy, Ill. He has been working at the plant since leaving military service 18 months ago.

BANKERS MAY HAVE TO HOLD THEIR BREATH
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The opening of a new branch of the Indiana National Bank Monday showed officials they have a sensitive burglar alarm. Perhaps too sensitive.

The doors had no sooner opened for business than the burglar alarm started clanging.

Police who rushed to the scene said the supersensitive alarm system might have been set off by somebody breathing too hard. Bank officials said the alarm will start sounding if someone just taps on the back of the building.

Bulganin Tells French Soviet Understands Troubles In Algeria

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the French Monday the Soviet Union understands their troubles in North Africa and believes a just and peaceful solution can be reached.

Bulganin made a declaration on France's difficulties with nationalist rebels in Algeria, and her settlements with other nationalists in Tunisia and Morocco, on the eve of a visit to Moscow by Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

His statements were in written answers to questions by the Paris newspaper, Le Monde. They were distributed here by Tass, the Soviet news agency.

"We sincerely welcomed the settlement of the Tunisian and Moroccan problems achieved by negotiation," said Bulganin.

As to Algeria, where more than 300,000 troops are trying to put down a rebellion, Bulganin said, "we well understand its complexity, but we are convinced that this problem too can be solved by peaceful means and that it will find its solution."

(Bulganin thus gave a slight kick to the props under the Soviet's anticolonialism campaign, a Russian policy which is of major concern to the French in North Africa. On the eve of the visit of Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev to London last month, the Soviet Union similarly gave a kick to the props under the Arab-Israeli crisis, which was of like concern to Britain. By calling for a peaceful settlement of that crisis, Russia in effect notified the Arab states they could not count on automatic Soviet support in event of trouble.)

Mollet and Pineau are due to arrive by air Tuesday. Mollet, first of the Big Three Western leaders to visit Moscow since the downgrading of Stalin, will hold four days of discussions (Continued on Page Nine)

TORNADOES KILL SEVENTEEN—Highway scene at Flint, Michigan, shows the debris littered area after tornado ripped through. The Red Cross reported nine dead and 50 injured at Flint, and adds eight dead with 50 injured at Cleveland, Ohio. Fifty Flint homes were destroyed and about 300 more were damaged by the twister. Flint, facing a flood threat from the rising Flint River, is in the path of new tornadoes threatening the midwest.

Radar Checks Gasoline!

How tests were made. Two identical cars were purchased on the open market and driven approximately 3000 miles—one on a leading competitive premium fuel, the other on Shell Premium with TCP. (Other identical cars using other gasolines were similarly checked.) Full-throttle acceleration tests were then made over a measured course with results observed by radar. Typical "win" is shown above, the car fueled with Shell Premium well out front.

Proves Shell Premium with TCP out-accelerates competitive premium gasolines in full-throttle tests

Engineers have found that today's high-horsepower, high-compression engines are especially sensitive to certain deposits.

Within only a few thousand miles deposits form which cause spark plugs to "miss." When this happens, power falls off. Performance generally gets lousy. Obviously, what's needed is a way to stop spark plug "miss." Dramatic proof of the effectiveness of Shell Premium with TCP is shown in the illustration.

You can see the difference it makes in radar-observed acceleration tests. The car out front was fueled with Shell Premium with TCP.

PROCLAMATION FOR
POPPY DAY, MAY 19
Whereas three times in the past 36 years the young men of our city have been called upon to help turn back a threat to America on foreign battlefield and
Whereas you young men answered the call with high courage and patriotism some of the finest laying down their lives in national defense and

Whereas our memory for our war dead and the honor in which we hold them is individually expressed by the annual wearing of the Memorial Poppy now
Therefore I, Ernest L. Hoagland, Mayor of the City of Jacksonville do hereby proclaim May 18, 1935 beginning at five o'clock in the afternoon and continuing until five o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 19, to be Poppy Day in Jackso- ville. I do urge all citizens to ob- serve the wearing of the Memorial Poppy.

A couple of motorists weighed the two and figured it was worth it to drive 100 miles from the Southern Black Hills to Belle Fourche to get their tanks filled. At the time gasoline was selling for 13 cents plus tax.

Church Women Win Award For Publicity

The Jacksonville Council of Church Women was honored by receiving first prize for its 1955-56 newspaper and radio publicity at the annual meeting of the Illinois Council of Church Women, held in Belleville, May 9 and 10. The Champaign Council was awarded the second prize with the Peoria Council being given honorable mention.

The judges, who made their choice from scrap books submitted by councils from all parts of the state, considered outstanding original radio programs and the World Day of Prayer coverage of the Jacksonville Council. Most of the news stories were clipped from the Jacksonville Journal and Courier.

Mrs. Al Price, Public Relations Chairman, is the author of all the radio programs and prepared material for the newspapers.

Mrs. Gerald Miller wrote the newspaper stories for the World Day of Prayer. Mrs. Price, because of illness, was unable to attend the state meeting, so Mrs. W. F. Bailey received the cash award, which is to be used by the local council for Public Relations.

The judges also noted that publicity of the Jacksonville Council indicated that it, through its city wide church census, its UNICEF collection, public meetings on housing, and collection of good used clothing and used nylons, was making a real contribution both to the community and to national and international missions.

The judges were Clarence D. Blair, St. Clair county Superintendent of Schools; Al Schmidt, editor of the Belleville Advocate; and Bill Bailey, manager of Radio Station WIBV.

Employees have worked a full year without a disabling injury. "There is no single possession more precious than the human life and it is an outstanding achievement to have an outstanding year in which unnecessary pain and suffering were prevented," Mr. Dearborn wrote.

"Our safety training programs and safety equipment have proved value," Plant Manager Sam Pack said Monday in stressing the need for continued emphasis on safety. "We know accidents can be prevented. We have earned for this plant a reputation as a safe place to work. I congratulate every employee for his part in achieving such an excellent safety record."

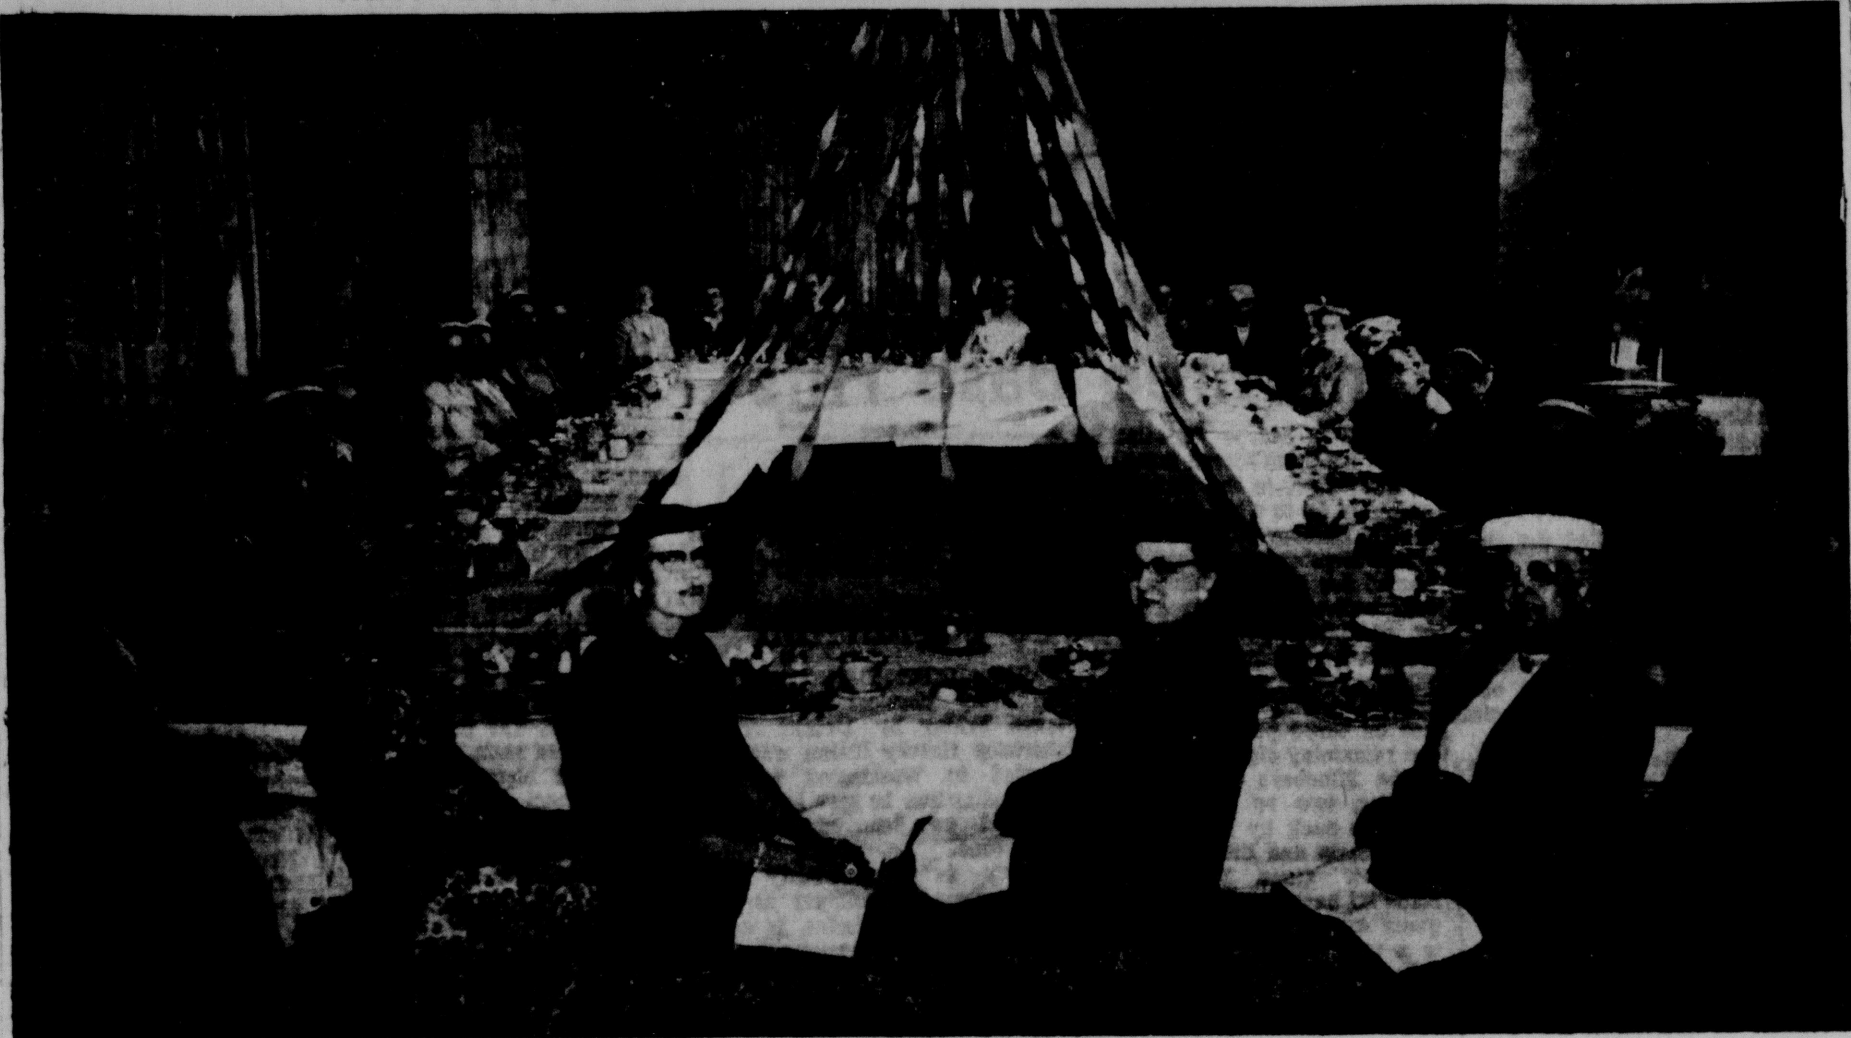

Safety engineers were employed to assist with the designing and construction of the Anderson, Clayton & Co. plant here, and the company has installed safety equipment in all departments. In addition, all employees receive special safety instruction and training.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Al Lopez puts up a bold front, but even the Indians fear that it is a false facade.

Older members of the Cleveland club seriously doubt that the Tribe has enough to head off a runaway race by the Yankees, and early results indicate that too much help cannot be expected from the other supposed contenders, the White Sox, Red Sox and Tigers.

"We make one or two mistakes in the field every day and haven't enough power to offset it," said the Old Indian.

"We don't score enough to support superior pitching."

"Although Larry Doby hardly has supplied the White Sox with a ton of it, we miss his big punch."

"I still think that the trade that sent Doby to Chicago for Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby was a mistake. Carrasquel hasn't hurt us, neither has he helped. He's hitting no more than would George Strickland, who plays shortstop just as well."

"Busby is batting .186."

"When a pulled muscle in the front of Al Smith's thigh heals and he can run at full speed, I look to see Lopez bench Busby, play Smith in center field and Rocky Colavito in right."

"Colavito doesn't hit for a high average, but he had 66 home runs in two seasons and was a big runs-batted-in man for Indianapolis. I doubt that there ever was a stronger or more accurate arm in baseball, but Colavito doesn't run fast enough to play center field."

Vic Wertz was the lone Injun who got off well at bat, but the plucky chap who beat polio fell off going into the Yankee Stadium for the first time.

The Indians are frankly worried about how long Wertz can keep going on hopped-up nerve. The big first baseman, out of action since last August, reported late for spring training far out of shape. He has driven himself unmercifully. When not on the field, he is in a whirlpool bath and sleeps in electric heating pads to keep aches away.

Al Rosen is neither fielding nor hitting and is upset about it. "Rosen has developed a persecution complex," said the Old Indian. "He thinks everybody is against him. Put out of games by umpires a couple of times, Al went into dissertations about nobody understanding his philosophies. All he has to do is hit the ball a few times. Everybody will understand that."

The Indians are beginning to see why the Yankees and Orioles passed Gene Woodling along.

"Gene's not nearly the ballplayer you knew at Yankee Stadium," the Old Indian went on. "He let a fly ball pop out of his glove for a home run in Baltimore and repeated at Yankee Stadium. What he had to say after Elston Howard's long fly went into our bull pen well illustrated his complacency. 'I've caught those kind before, and I've missed them by that much, too,' he said."

"It's still early, of course, but you won't win pennants with that kind of playing or thinking."

The Indians know that, given any degree of superlative pitching in addition to that of Whitey Ford and spared serious injury to Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, this is a tremendous Yankee club.

The Yankees are tough enough without being given a running start.

They're Saying "As Sherm Lollar Goes, So Go Marion's Chisox"

By DAVE DILES
DETROIT (AP)—Now they're saying: "As Sherm Lollar goes, so go the White Sox."

For several seasons it has been Minnie Minoso in the role of the Chicago club's make-or-break guy.

But when the 31-year-old Lollar caught fire a few games back, so did Marty Marion's White Sox. The Arkansas-born catcher has batted his average from .231 to .367 in five games and has 13 hits, including 4 doubles and 2 home runs, in his last 17 times at bat.

Minoso, the fleet left fielder, regained his batting punch at about the same time and has upped his batting average from .207 to .324 in the last 10 games.

Lollar added a double, a single and a sacrifice fly Sunday as the White Sox thumped the Detroit Tigers 8-1 for a sweep of their 3-game series at Briggs Stadium. Minoso also had a double and a single and drove home a run while scoring a pair himself.

Lollar drove in three runs. When the Chicago club came to town Friday, its record was seven wins and eight defeats. The White Sox went back to Chicago for a home stay with a make of 10 wins and 8 losses, and were in third place 13 games behind the Cleveland Indians.

The White Sox turned the Tiger pitching into a feast, collecting 43 hits in the 3-game set.

Marion was jubilant as the Sox headed back to Comiskey Park.

"They look like a new team," said the Sox manager. "It's amazing what a few base hits will do for you."

SPRINGFIELD DEFEATS JHS GOLFERS 14-6

The JHS golf team lost their first game of the season here yesterday to a tough Springfield outfit 14-6.

Low man for the Crimsons was Jim Reynolds with a 71 score, while scoring a pair himself. Lollar drove in three runs.

Smith's Homer Gives Tribe 3-2 Win Over Yanks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Smith clubbed a home run over the left field fence in the ninth inning Monday night to give the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees and boost them into the American League lead.

Bob Lemon hurled a three-hitter at the Yanks for his fifth straight victory, all completely pitched.

Smith was the first Indian up in the ninth, and the home run, his fifth of the season, broke a 2-2 tie that had existed from the fourth inning. It sent Johnny Kucks to his second defeat against three victories.

The game cost the Yanks the league lead they had held since May 3. They now trail Cleveland by 10 percentage points—625 to .615.

Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle hit consecutive home runs off Lemon in the fourth for the only Yankee runs the veteran righthander allowed. The other hit by the visitors was a single by Elston Howard in the fifth inning.

The Indians got the game's first hits in the third inning, and scored the opening run when Chico Carrasquel and Lemon singled and Carrasquel came home as Jim Busby forced Lemon at second.

Culver Stockton Nine Edges Blueboys 5-2 On Three Base Hits

CANTON, Mo. (Special)—Culver Stockton scored three runs without a hit in the first inning and went on to a 5-2 victory over the IC Blueboys.

Bob Hembrough opened on the mound for Illinois College, gave four walks and uncorked a pair of wild pitches, allowing the initial three runs of the game. Bob McEvers then went to work in relief and allowed only two tallies on three paltry hits during the remaining eight frames.

The Blueboys collected five safeties, two by Rog Curfman and one each by Gene Farmer, Bill Merris and Bill Ingie.

Pitcher Gene Farmer now leads IC batters with a fourteen game average of .422. Curfman is a close second at .421.

Joe Brooks' Illinois College nine goes into its final week of play with a record of seven wins and seven losses.

Nashua Bids To Become World's Richest Horse

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua, bidding to become the world's richest thoroughbred, will shoulder an impost of 129 pounds in the mile and one eighth Camden Handicap at Garden State Park Saturday.

Weights were assigned Monday at the Camden, N. J., track and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Nashua's veteran trainer, said: "They're all right. We're going down. Eddie Aracero will ride Nashua."

At this weight, Nashua would be conceding seven pounds to Jet Action and nine to Fishman.

Victory in the Camden would make Nashua the greatest money-winning race horse in history. His total of $1,077,615 as far leaves him only $8,145 behind Citation's career record and the winner's share of the Camden would put him well over Citation's mark.

Redlegs Farm Smith, Batts To Southern League

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs Monday shipped pitcher Frank Smith and veteran catcher Matt Batts to Nashville of the Southern Assn., thus trimming their roster to within one of the 25-player limit which must be reached Thursday.

Both Smith and Batts were sent to Nashville on a 24-hour recall basis.

Batts, 34, has been in the major leagues most of the time since 1947.

Smith, a righthanded relief pitcher, came to Cincinnati this year on waivers after he had been plagued with a sore arm. He has been ineffective.

Fight Results

NEW YORK (AP)—Undeclared Herman (Rory) Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., stopped Randy Sandy in 2:46 of the first round by flooring the lanky New Yorker three times Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena. It was Calhoun's 21st straight victory. Calhoun weighed 160 lbs., Sandy 155.

Repulski And Bailey Top Majors In Batting With .431 Averages

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
NEW YORK (AP)—Eldon (Rip) Repulski of St. Louis and Cincinnati's Ed Bailey, a pair of National Leaguers who weren't even considered regulars at the outset of the 1936 season, Monday topped the majors in batting with averages of .431 each.

Repulski, 27-year-old outfielder, collected 10 safeties in 23 at bats last week. He gained two points in advancing from third. Bailey, last week's leader, suffered a 28-point decline as he went 5-for-14.

In the American League, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees maintained his batting supremacy with a .391 mark despite a 33-point dip. Figures include games through Sunday.

Repulski had only two pinch hitting appearances in the Cards' first six games as Hank Sauer and Joe Prazier got the starting nod over him. Once restored to a regular role, Repulski kept hitting consistently and won the left field berth.

Bailey, a reserve catcher for the Redlegs behind Smokey Burnette,

Luckman Obtains Clemency For Two Teen-Agers

CHICAGO (AP)—Former football star Sid Luckman Monday obtained clemency for two teen-agers accused of beating his 14-year-old son.

Luckman testified that Paul Weiland, 19, and Robert A. Mulder, 18, "seemed perfect gentlemen" when he spoke with them at a police station Friday night.

As a result Judge Alexander Napoli in Municipal Court placed them under supervision for a year. A similar assault charge against a third youth, Kenneth R. Dace, was dismissed when it was learned that he had no part in beating Luckman's son, Robert.

Young Luckman was pushed to the ground and struck on the chin as he was walking with a friend near his North Side home.

The elder Luckman for many years starred at quarterback for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. He now is a Bear backfield coach.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The danger in a heavyweight elimination tournament to find a successor to Rocky Marciano is that everybody will be eliminated.

Bob Baker and Johnny Holman practically eliminated each other the other night, as in winning Baker showed only that he is a heavyweight. The next test bout bring together Floyd Patterson and Hurricane Jackson June 8.

Jackson has a freakish style, even between rounds when he does wind sprints in his corner. Some day when he is doing this stationary roadwork an opponent will rush across the room and blast him.

Remember how Frenchy Borgdarey reached second base on a double and in his exuberance started to tap dance on the bag? And was tagged out between taps?

We still don't know what to think of Patterson. He has been kept in cotton, so to speak, so how he will stand the rigors of a cruel world is problematical.

He's looked good against the opposition he has faced, but he's been facing minor leaguers, and many a guy can look like a world buster in the minors and be a dud when he moves up. It's a case of finding out if Patterson can hit curve ball pitching, you might say. He has a remarkably fast pair of hands, and is a clever boxer.

We think he will take care of Jackson, as we think Hurricane is still a minor leaguer.

Let's face it, the heavyweight crop was a failure, except for the overstuffed light heavy, Archie Moore. Unless Marciano left him the proverbial hollow shell, Archie should take care of the other contenders handily.

Bradley Appoints Coaches

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Bradley University Monday named Joe Sowell and Bill Zimmer as assistants to the athletic staff.

Sowell, a native of Peoria and former Bradley basketball player, was named freshman basketball coach and Zimmer was appointed football line coach.

Zimmer will retain his job as golf coach and will also be wrestling coach if the sport is returned next season.

Sowell replaces Chuck Orsborn who was named head basketball coach last week.

Yawkey To Seek Ban On Night Games In April

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey was quoted Monday as saying he plans to propose a ban on night games during April at the next meeting of the major league club owners.

Yawkey was quoted by Boston Globe baseball writer Hy Hurwitz as saying in Detroit: "It's bad enough to play in the daytime in April, let alone playing in the evening."

"It isn't fair to the fans, players or officials to be playing under the unfavorable conditions such as exist generally during the month of April."

"The fans as well as the players are exposed to illness playing in freezing weather. We certainly should consider the fans. They are the ones who pay the freight."

Yawkey is vice president of the American League and a member of baseball's Executive Council.

The Boston traveler said that although several owners "are in sympathy with Yawkey," his proposal "is likely to fall on deaf ears."

Parke Carroll, vice president and business manager of the Kansas City A's, was quoted as saying: "How can you be arbitrary about a thing like that? Kansas City is at least three weeks ahead of Boston in baseball weather. So how can you set a uniform date?"

Orioles Purchase Billy Loes And Johnny Schmitz

BALTIMORE (AP)—Trader Paul Richards shuffled his Oriole mound corps Monday, buying righthander Billy Loes, from Brooklyn and southpaw Johnny Schmitz from Boston and dropping two Oriole hurlers.

The acquisition of Loes, rumored and denied last week, was the fifth transaction involving Oriole personnel in the past three days.

In acquiring Loes and Schmitz, the Baltimore general manager sold Mel Held to the Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn. and optioned Werner (Babe) Birrer to the Birds' San Antonio farm club on 24-hour recall. Both are righthanders.

No prices were disclosed in any of the deals, although the Orioles were believed to have picked up Loes for an estimated $20,000.

Loes, who won 50 and lost 26 with Brooklyn over the last five seasons, has been troubled with a sore shoulder muscle, and has made only one appearance this season.

The Dodgers said the Orioles knew of Loes' arm trouble but decided to gamble on him.

Michigan State won all eight tennis matches during its 1936 spring tour of the South.

Lewis Blanks Wildcats As JHS Wins 11-0; ISD Bows To Rockets 11-4

Championship Game
4:00 p.m. JHS vs Routt (JHS field).

The JHS Crimsons and the Routt Rockets will meet in the finals of the IHSAA Sub-District today at the JHS Athletic Field as the two schools won their semi-final games of the tournament Monday.

The game at I.S.D. was a game where Routt played cat and mouse with the Tigers. Tom Regan toiled on the mound for the Rockets and threw shut out ball for four innings before leaving the game and his double in the first inning gave Routt a lead they held the remainder of the game.

Jack Long took over for Regan at the beginning of the fifth and had Long held the Tigers scoreless the game would have been called after five innings because of the 10 run rule. But Long walked the first man and he advanced to third on a series of outs, and with two outs the Routt shortstop fielded the next batter's ground ball but he lobbed the ball across the diamond and all hands were safe and the game went into the sixth frame.

Tom Regan paced the Rockets hitting attack with two safeties in three appearances. Duncan's triple and single highlighted the Tiger hitters. Tiger catcher Smudzinski sustained a broken middle finger early in the game and was replaced back of the plate by Schultz.

GRAINS FINISH ERRATICALLY AFTER FIRM START

CHICAGO (U) — Grains wound up with a highly erratic trend after displaying early firmness on the Board of Trade Monday.

Greatest strength appeared in old crop soybeans. At one time May and July beans had gains of around eight cents. But this was cut sharply before the final gong.

Chief weakness appeared in May wheat. It suffered from light but steady liquidation and finished 5¢ lower. New crop wheat eased, as did rye. But oats and old crop corn firmed.

Wheat closed 3/4-5¢ lower, corn 1/4 lower to 1 cent higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye 1/2-2¢ lower, soybeans 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher and land 10 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The early strength in old crop soybeans reflected higher prices for soybean oil and soybean meal in the cash market. Oil sold at 15 1/2 to 15 3/4 cents a pound, up 1/2 to 1 1/2, while meal was $62.00 to $62.50 a ton, up $2.00 to $2.50 and at a high since last September.

However, selling toward the finish found buying orders rather light in soybeans. The new crop months dropped under the previous finish. A report from downstate Illinois said farmers were exceeding original intentions in planting soybeans.

Quite a difference of opinion exists among grain experts on the amount of land farmers will put into corn and soybeans. Some grainmen think a large corn crop will be sown in view of price supports at $1.25 for corn even if acreage allotments are exceeded. Others think present prices will result in more land going into soybeans.

Back in March the Agriculture Department estimated soybean acreage at 21,760,000 acres, the largest on record, and corn acreage at 78,668,000 acres, the smallest since 1926.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (U) — The stock market moved down abruptly Monday in a burst of selling that coincided with the Russian announcement of a cut in military forces.

The drop wiped out an estimated 2 1/2 billion dollars from the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, as judged by the decline of $2.20 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

Losses were $1 to $5. All divisions were caught in the selling. Brokers pointed out that the market has been going through a reaction phase ever since it reached a record high level April 6. That high peak was attained in a strong rally that started in mid-February.

During the reaction, the market has been nervous and irregular with trading on a selective basis. Last Thursday there was a severe drop that followed an announcement of a cut in production by General Motors. Monday the drop followed the Russian announcement.

In both cases, it was felt, the news developments were used as selling excuses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $2.30 at $185.70. The decline was one of the larger drops of the year, but it was less than the $2.50 the average lost last Thursday.

The industrial component of the average was off $2.70, railroads were off $2.30, and the utilities were off 20 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,440,000 shares compared with 2,450,000 Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 1,060,000 shares against 950,000 Friday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U) — Rails and utilities moved up while industrials and quality investment issues eased in a narrowly mixed bond market Monday. Volume rose to $4,710,000 par value from $4,650,000 Friday.

U. S. Treasury bonds were virtually unchanged in quiet trading in the over-the-counter market.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bloomfield and son, Mike, and Mrs. Rhoda Bloomfield have left for Phoenix, Ariz., for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Rose Hinds has left for a month's visit at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Kenneth Reside and family at Alexandria, La.

THE LONG BODY

by Helen McCloy

BASIL WILLING paused a moment, pensively, then continued reading John Hazard's document:

"We didn't think much about women until after a month or so of listening to the talk of the older men. I think we each began to feel that we weren't playing our parts as manfully as we should."

"The young are all conformists at heart, so long as they are conforming to the manners of their own generation and not to the manners of their parents."

"We'd been at Dill about three months and I had just passed my 16th birthday, when Byrd pulled a guard duty and asked me to come around to the guardhouse early the next morning before anyone else was up. He wouldn't tell me why. He was mysterious but insistent. He had the six-to-eight watch and would be at the telescope alone."

"The sun was just over the horizon and everything was fresh and clean smiling, when I came up to him at the telescope as he'd asked me to. The rest of the guard was asleep inside and it was still half an hour to reveille. Byrd was seated behind the telescope squinting through it fixedly. When he heard my step he looked up with a grin and I saw he was excited about something. He had the telescope clamped. He got up and motioned for me to look."

"It was trained on a little adobe house off by itself on the outskirts of the Mexican town. I could see a rooster and two hens scratching in the dirt yard. There was a green vine trained over the doorway and a little breeze was waving white curtains inside an open window."

"His eyes were glowing with enthusiasm. 'Keep on watching and maybe you'll see her come out. I did one morning a week ago.'"

"So what?" I repeated. "What does it get you to spy on a woman?"

"He moved close to me and whispered, 'It's the one Tim Rafferty was talking about the other night.'"

"Tim Rafferty was a loud-mouth and show-off from the East whom I didn't like. He was about 25 and lately he'd dropped hints about slipping across the border at night and visiting a Mexican woman. I didn't believe any man would be fool enough to take such a risk. I told Byrd so, but he shook his head."

"TIM told me all about her. Johnny. She's not more than 22 or 23 and real pretty for a Mexican. He says she's crazy about American men. And listen to this. Tim says next time he slips over he'll take me and she's got a friend living alone in that house behind hers and she'll get her for me."

"I looked at him disbelievingly. 'You wouldn't, Byrd.'"

"A reckless grin lighted up his face. 'Why not? I got it all figured out. Only not with Tim. You and me, Johnny.' He turned to look over the border. I followed his gaze and we both saw a flash of color behind the little house set off by itself. In spite of myself I leaned forward and looked through the scope. The high-powered lens brought her right in front of my eyes clearly. Her back was toward me. She wore a bright yellow dress with a full skirt that billowed in the breeze. She was tall and held her head high with black hair smoothly coiled around it in two braids. You could tell she was young."

"I told Byrd, 'Not me. You think I'm that crazy?' Wading across the river and walking up there in uniform?"

"Byrd's eyes were dancing. 'We'll get a 24-hour mounted pass, see? Say we want to camp overnight at The Well. We never have applied for a pass, so we'll get it. But we'll ride down-river instead and pitch camp in that clump of live oaks. And after dark we'll ride over and visit her.'"

"I said, 'Not on your life' and went away before someone woke in the guardhouse and heard us talking."

"But as I walked back to barracks, I knew it was no use. I knew I'd too well."

"I'd never been able to say no to Byrd. I couldn't say no this time without being craven."

"BYRD applied at the orderly room for our mounted passes that afternoon. The Well, which we gave as our destination, was an oasis back in the hills about 15 miles from camp. An arroyo well that bubbled up cold water all the time and fed a big earthen tank for cattle to water at. Every few days one or more men would get a pass to ride there and make camp and go swimming and spend a few hours away from barracks, pretending they weren't in the Army. So we had no trouble getting our pass for the next afternoon. Byrd chose that day because Rafferty was posted to go out on patrol that morning and wouldn't be back to interfere."

"We rode away from camp at four in the afternoon. Our passes were good until four the next day. A few miles in, we left the trail and turned south on a course that led us back to the river. There, in a big clump of live oaks, in a little sheltered valley about half a mile from the river, we pitched our tent and made camp and waited for darkness."

"At sundown we changed to our fatigue clothes, buckled gun belts over them and rode down to the soft, white sand at the river's edge, where our horses lowered their heads to drink."

Planes Crash Near Meredosia; Pilot Killed As Craft Digs Crater

A 10 foot crater in the muck of the Illinois river bottom near Meredosia was the temporary grave Sunday of Lt. Ladd Miller, 25, of Peoria, after his F-51 Mustang collided with another fighter plane in mid-air at 10:45 o'clock a. m. (DST).

The damaged plane spiraled suddenly to earth, gouging a huge hole in a field, around which several thousand persons milled later in the day, although they were kept at some distance by officers. The plane fell two miles south of Meredosia, about a mile from the west bank of the Illinois river.

The pilot of the other plane involved in the aerial collision was able to continue to Springfield where he set his disabled craft down at the Capital Airport without injury to himself. The survivor pilot of the crash is Capt. Verlin Stauffer, 32, of Kewanee, Ill.

Rausch Sees Plane Fall
Clyde Rausch, Jr., of Meredosia was working with some fish nets along the river when he noticed four planes flying in formation. One of the planes suddenly burst into smoke and flames.

Rausch watched horrified as the plane spiraled like a wounded bird, plunging to earth with Officers warned spectators not to pick up any parts of the plane or other debris from the wreck as souvenirs.

The hole in the field, at least 10 feet deep and seven feet wide, began filling with water within an hour. The remains of the victim were thus difficult to reach, and in the afternoon two pieces of dredging equipment were taken to the scene from Barry, Ill.

Council Votes 10 - 4 To Knock Out Office Of Police Magistrate

By a 10 to 4 vote the city council last night decided to abolish the office of police magistrate, which has been a storm center for the past three months.

The motion on which the council acted, which was delayed for some time while aldermen expressed their personal views, was to instruct the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to abolish the office.

The council also heard a report on the revocation of the license of the Wagon Wheel Tavern in Broadway Alley, and later last night the city officials joined in the switch-on of a new street lighting circuit to serve the newly-developed west section of Jacksonville.

The action on the police magistrate job was attended by considerable discussion and parliamentary maneuvering.

Alderman McHatton of the judiciary committee started the movement to declare the office vacant when he announced that "thirty-four out of thirty-five people I talked with were in favor of doing away with the office until a new magistrate can be elected." Alderman Rowe joined in the move to abolish the office.

Favors Retaining Office
Mayor Hoagland said, "I feel the city should have a magistrate." He recommended that the office be continued until next December, after which it would be abolished and a magistrate elected in the spring, the term starting concurrently with other offices.

Police Magistrate Alvarez, in whose favor the Morgan county circuit court ruled last week, was present and made brief remarks. He defended his right to serve as magistrate, and the sufficiency of his bond which was a point of contention in the quo warranto proceedings in circuit court. William Messersmith, who served 10 months as magistrate after his election in 1935, was ousted by a court order earlier in the series of hearings.

Mrs. Joseph Baus asked for permission to speak and was recognized by the mayor. She urged that the office be abolished until the people choose a magistrate.

Rowe, McHatton Lead Move
Alderman Rowe moved, seconded by Alderman McHatton, that the job be abolished, and the city attorney instructed to draw up an ordinance.

Alderman DeFrates asked to be excused from voting, after which Mayor Hoagland ruled that a vote by the council would be necessary before permission was given.

Voting to extend permission for DeFrates to sit out were Allen, Mathews and Sheerin.

Voting not to excuse DeFrates from voting were Aldermen Fitzsimmons, Goodey, Greener, Hall, Kelly, McHatton, Rowe, Scott and Sims, a 9 to 3 majority, with DeFrates and Mayor Hoagland not voting.

The council then grappled with the main issue—the original motion to do away with the office. Voting "Yes" were Aldermen Fitzsimmons, Goodey, Greener, Hall, Kelly, Mathews, McHatton, Rowe, Scott and Sims.

Negative votes were registered by Aldermen Allen, DeFrates, Sheerin and Mayor Hoagland. Councilmen indicated that if the ordinance is passed the office will be vacant about June 1. The business would then be handled presumably by justices of the peace.

Revoke Liquor License
Mayor Hoagland announced that as liquor commissioner he conducted a hearing at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon on alleged violations of the liquor ordinance as applied to the Wagon Wheel Tavern and ordered that the license held by Clarence Clayton and Lloyd Clement be revoked. He had previously ordered a seven day suspension.
